

Teivo Teivainen

Teivo Teivainen is Professor of World Politics at the University of Helsinki and Director of the Program on Democracy and Global Transformation at the San Marcos University in Lima, Peru.

Among his recent activities, during 2005-06 he was the International Political Economy Section Chair of the International Studies Association (ISA) and member of the ISA's Governing Council, as well as Distinguished Visiting Professor of Development Studies at Saint Mary's University in Canada during the second half of 2005.

In 2005-06 he also chaired Network Institute for Global Democratization (www.nigd.org), and on behalf of NIGD he is a founding member of the International Council of the World Social Forum. He has been consultant for various international organizations, trade unions, social movements and governments.

His newest books are Enter Economism, Exit Politics: Experts, Economic Policy and the Damage to Democracy (London and New York: Zed Books 2002, winner of the Terence K. Hopkins Award of the American Sociological Association); Pedagogía del poder mundial. Relaciones internacionales y lecciones del desarrollo en América Latina (Lima: CEDEP 2003); A Possible World: Democratic Transformation of Global Institutions. (London and New York: Zed Books 2004, co-authored with Heikki Patomäki); Democracy in Movement: The World Social Forum as a Political Process (London: Routledge, forthcoming) and Comisiones de la verdad y actores transnacionales en América Latina. Globalización contradictoria de derechos y responsabilidades, Lima, Fondo Editorial de la Pontificia Universidad Católica (forthcoming).