

Training for the Team. Take the next step.

Talent Development Package

Organizations like yours need training that translates into enhanced skills and greater on-the-job expertise. Training with Saint Mary's University's Executive and Professional Development is not about sitting back and soaking things up - it's about diving in and rolling up your sleeves.

Finding the right training when you need it, and within budget can be a challenge. The solution is the Talent Development Package, which will stretch your training budget by up to 30% further. That could be the difference needed so that everyone gets some development this year. Or you'll be able to reap the benefits sooner with a team that is ready to tackle those big challenges.

Buy a Talent Development Package for $5000 (applicable taxes not included) and you'll get 10 seats in any of our regular priced two-day seminars ($765 to $875). That's a savings of up to $3750.

Need assistance developing a learning plan for your team?
Ask us, we can lend a hand.

Don't have time to track the training for your employees?
Not to worry. We provide regular updates and there is a generous 18 months to schedule the training.

Not sure your organization can commit to this quantity of training?
For those with smaller teams we still offer our generous 10% group discount for three or more people registered for the same seminar.

The only thing you need to do?
Pre-purchase the Talent Development Package.

Talent Development Package

Terms and Conditions Apply

Valid for 10 seats in any of our regular priced two-day seminars ($765 to $875) at Saint Mary's University's Executive and Professional Development, with a maximum list price of $8750.

The Talent Development Package must be paid in full prior to any seminar registration and is not transferrable to another organization.

Seminars must be attended within 18 months of purchase by any individual who is an employee of the organization.

Course selection/registration must be received a minimum of 10 working days prior to the start of the seminar. We allow substitution up to and including the first day of a seminar.

Non-attendance without any written email notification one day prior to the start of the seminar will incur a charge for the seminar.

In the event that Saint Mary's University cancels a seminar an employee has registered for using the Talent Development Package, the individual will be transferred to an alternate seminar with no transfer fee costs.

Payment for the Talent Development Package is non-refundable and has no cash back value. Any employees registered for seminars prior to purchase of the Talent Development Package will not receive the discount retroactively. This offer is not valid with other promotions, savings programs or discounts.

Excludes the following:

- Certificate in Financial Management
- Certificate in Project Management for the Project Associate
- Masters Certificate in Project Management
- Partner-delivered seminars

Saint Mary's University's Executive and Professional Development has designed this package so you can get the most from your organization's training budget. Should we need to make changes to programs, schedules and terms, we reserve the right to change or cancel this promotion at any time.

Get ready to take the next step.
