

Department of Criminology Limited term Appointment

The Department of Criminology at Saint Mary's University invites applications for one eight-month contractually limited term appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor to commence September 1, 2022.

We are seeking a criminologist with a demonstrated capacity to teach courses in areas related to prisons and punishment; restorative justice; race and racism in the criminal justice system; policing; criminal law, victims and criminal justice, critical criminology, criminalization of mental illness, hate crimes, criminological theory, or research methods. The successful candidate will be required to teach in at least two of these areas.

The successful candidate must hold a PhD (or be ABD and close to the completion of a PhD) in Criminology or a related discipline. Candidates must provide evidence of a strong research record and show promise of a high standard of teaching. The deadline for applications is April 30, 2022.

Saint Mary's University is one of Canada's top primary undergraduate universities known for its international collaborations, leadership in entrepreneurship, and research that benefits local and global communities. Our programs in Arts, Science, Graduate Studies, and the Sobey School of Business are among Canada's best and feature professors who are committed to the success of their students. Saint Mary's provides our 7,000 students with a place that fosters possibility, excellent research opportunities, and distinguished graduate and professional programs combined with a caring community. Saint Mary's is community focused with strong values, operating the way the world should. We embrace diversity, are committed to sustainability, and bravely tackle the issues that matter to society.

With students from as many as 118 different countries and partnerships with institutions in dozens of other countries, Saint Mary's University is a leader in international and intercultural education. Nestled in the heart of Halifax, Nova Scotia, on Canada's east coast, Saint Mary's University is marked by iconic buildings, green spaces, and fresh ocean air. Our campus is based in Mi'kma'ki, the ancestral and unceded territory of the Mi'kmaq, and is global in reach and influence. The Saint Mary's University community is committed to a prosperous future for the world—a world without limits.

At Saint Mary's University equity and diversity are integral to excellence and enrich our community. As an institution committed to fostering an environment of inclusion and respect, we welcome applications from women, Indigenous peoples, racialized persons/visible minorities, persons with disabilities, persons of minority sexual orientation or gender identity and others who might contribute to the growth and enrichment of our community.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, preference will be given to Canadian citizens and permanent residents. If you require accommodations during the recruitment process, please contact Human Resources at hr@smu.ca. Teaching loads, employee benefits, and salaries are governed by the Saint Mary's University Collective Agreement

Applications must consist of ONLY the following:

- 1) a cover letter indicating qualifications to teach in the areas listed;
- 2) a curriculum vitae;
- 3) copies of unofficial graduate school transcripts; and
- 4) the names and contact information for three referees.

Please merge these documents into a single PDF file. Applications are to be submitted by April 30, 2022 via email to:
